A BOGUS PURCHASER OF LAND SENT TO THE PENITENTIARY .- In the proceedings of the grand jury of the Hustings Court yes-terday appears an indictment against J. The co C. Virtue alias W. H. Michael alias Wilhams for forgery.

Mr. Michael, a produce and commission forged, arrived here yesterday morning, wanted counsel or witnesses. He pleaded guilty to the charge and the trial was proceeded with. Mr. Michael, after being sworn, said that Virtue was the same party who came into his place of business in Philadelphia and represented himself as George W. Baker, a farmer from near Norfolk, who had about 160 acres in strawberries which he wanted him (Michael) to sell. He gave him some of his business cards and a stencil to mark the crates and boxes of fruit. He left, promising to ship the fruit the following week. This was the last of him. Other witnesses were examined as to the Chesterfield affair in order to show the jury the character of the man.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty, and ascertained his punishment at two years in the penitentiary. The Court at once passed sentence upon him, and he was handcaffed and taken down to jail. He will be sent out to the penitentiary in a few BRIEFS .- The funeral of Br. H. L. Thomas, which took place Sunday evening from St. James church, was attended by a large number of people, including many physicians.

Sheriff Hargrove, of Sussex, arrived yesterday with George Parham, sentenced to two rears in the penitentiary for housebreaking.

The funeral of Charles H. Martin, which took place Sunday evening, was attended by a great number, including Masons, Odd-Fellows, and Knights of Pythias. Thousands of bankrupts have never received their discharges, and by a recent rule of the Court such cases can be declared ended by a proceeding taken upon the application of any party in interest, and the termination of the case in this manner deprives the party of the protection of the bankruptcy law. POST-OFFICE STATESTICS .- The following is a report of mail matter delivered and collected by the letter-carriers at the Richmond joint Committee on Finance, calling at $450. Post-office for the menth of April: Carriers

CINDERFLIA LAST NIGHT. - There was a brilliant, .fashionable, and crowded audience at the Theatre last evening to witness the presentation of the opera of Cinderella. in which bundreds of our citizens took active part, and the grand style in which it was presented surpasses, perhaps, anything of the kind ever witnessed in this city. Indeed, as regards the spectacular feature and the management of so large a number of persons on the stage at one time, it was an effort that perhaps will vie with anything of like nature ever seen in this country.

The cast all did well. As Cinderella Miss Alice Swain was charming; her sweet, flexible voice showing off in a high degree the finished cultivation it has received in the difficult vocalization of Rossini. She doubtless added many friends last night to received two persons into full fellowship at the host of those she now possesses in Richmond. Her charming and simple rendition of the lovely refrain with which she opens in the first act, and which runs through the Rev. Dr. Edwards received three mem- entire opera, was much impaired by the continuous laughter amongst the audience, caused by the acting of the two sisters, which was inimitable. Mrs. Knowles as ter Methodist church, has suspended his the Fairy Queen sang and acted the part beautifully. The two sisters, personated respectively by Miss Giles and Miss Pelouze, were acted to the life. Whenever they appeared they convulsed the audience by their flected airs and graces.

Mr. Redford's personation of Prince Felix was highly creditable, both as regards his singing and acting. Mr. Pizzini's Dan-At the Broad-Street Methodist church dini was admirably conceived and portrayed. He possessed a great merit, both in his acting and singing, that was wanting in others, and that was distinctness and precision in articulation. Mr. Jurgens is to be complimented for his efforts in the personation of the difficult rôle of Baron Pompolino. He needs a little more of the buffo, but that will probably come when he has become a little more at ease in the next performance. Mr. Cardozo made a fine appearance as Alidoro, and little Miss Nettie Bass surprised the audience with her wonderful powers. To our mind the character of Pedro could not have been better acted than it was last evening by Mr. H. M. Smith, Jr., and he received many marks of approval from the audience. The grandest effect of the opera, and one which raised the audience to the highest pitch of enthusiasm, was in the closing scene. When the court of ladies, gentlemen, and retainers had been assembled a band of forty-odd warriors, headed

Church Notes .- At the Baptist church Rev. Dr. Winfree occupied the pulpit in the morning, and at night Rev. W. I. Fitcher, of Chesterfield, officiated. Three persons were united with the church, two eing admitted by letter, and one on pro fession of faith, and was baptized. Owing to the absence of the rector of Meade-Memorial church there was no preaching in the morning. In the afternoon the pulpit was occupied by Rev. H.

Melville Jackson, of Richmond. There were no services at the Presbytesian church Sunday, the pastor (Rev. W. A. Campbell) being in attendance at the annual session of East Hanover Presbytery. He is xpected to return to the city some time du-

A Handsome Present .- The pastor of the Methodist church, Rev. G. C. Vanderslice, was presented with an excellent suit of clothing by the young members of his church and congregation on Saturday.

Personal.-Senator L. R. Chiles, of this ity, left here yesterday afternoon ou a brief visit to Baltimore. Rev. Mr. Jackson, of Providence Methodist church, Chesterfield, was in the city yesterday, and was in attendance at the protracted meeting at the Methodist church Sunday night. Rev. J. H. Stringfellow, rector of Meade-Memorial church, and bride are expected to arrive here Saturday.

Brief Items .- The tableaux and charades given by the ladies of the Baptist church ended Saturday night, and resulted in the raising of a neat sum towards the maintenance of the church.
